Six things a debate round teaches that a textbook can't.

01

Strengthens leadership

Learning to take the floor, own a position, and guide a room toward a decision.

02

Enhances communication

Structuring thoughts on the spot and saying them clearly, to any audience.

03

Boosts confidence

Comfort thinking and speaking under pressure, without a script.

04

Critical & analytical thinking

Weighing both sides of an argument before forming and defending a view.

05

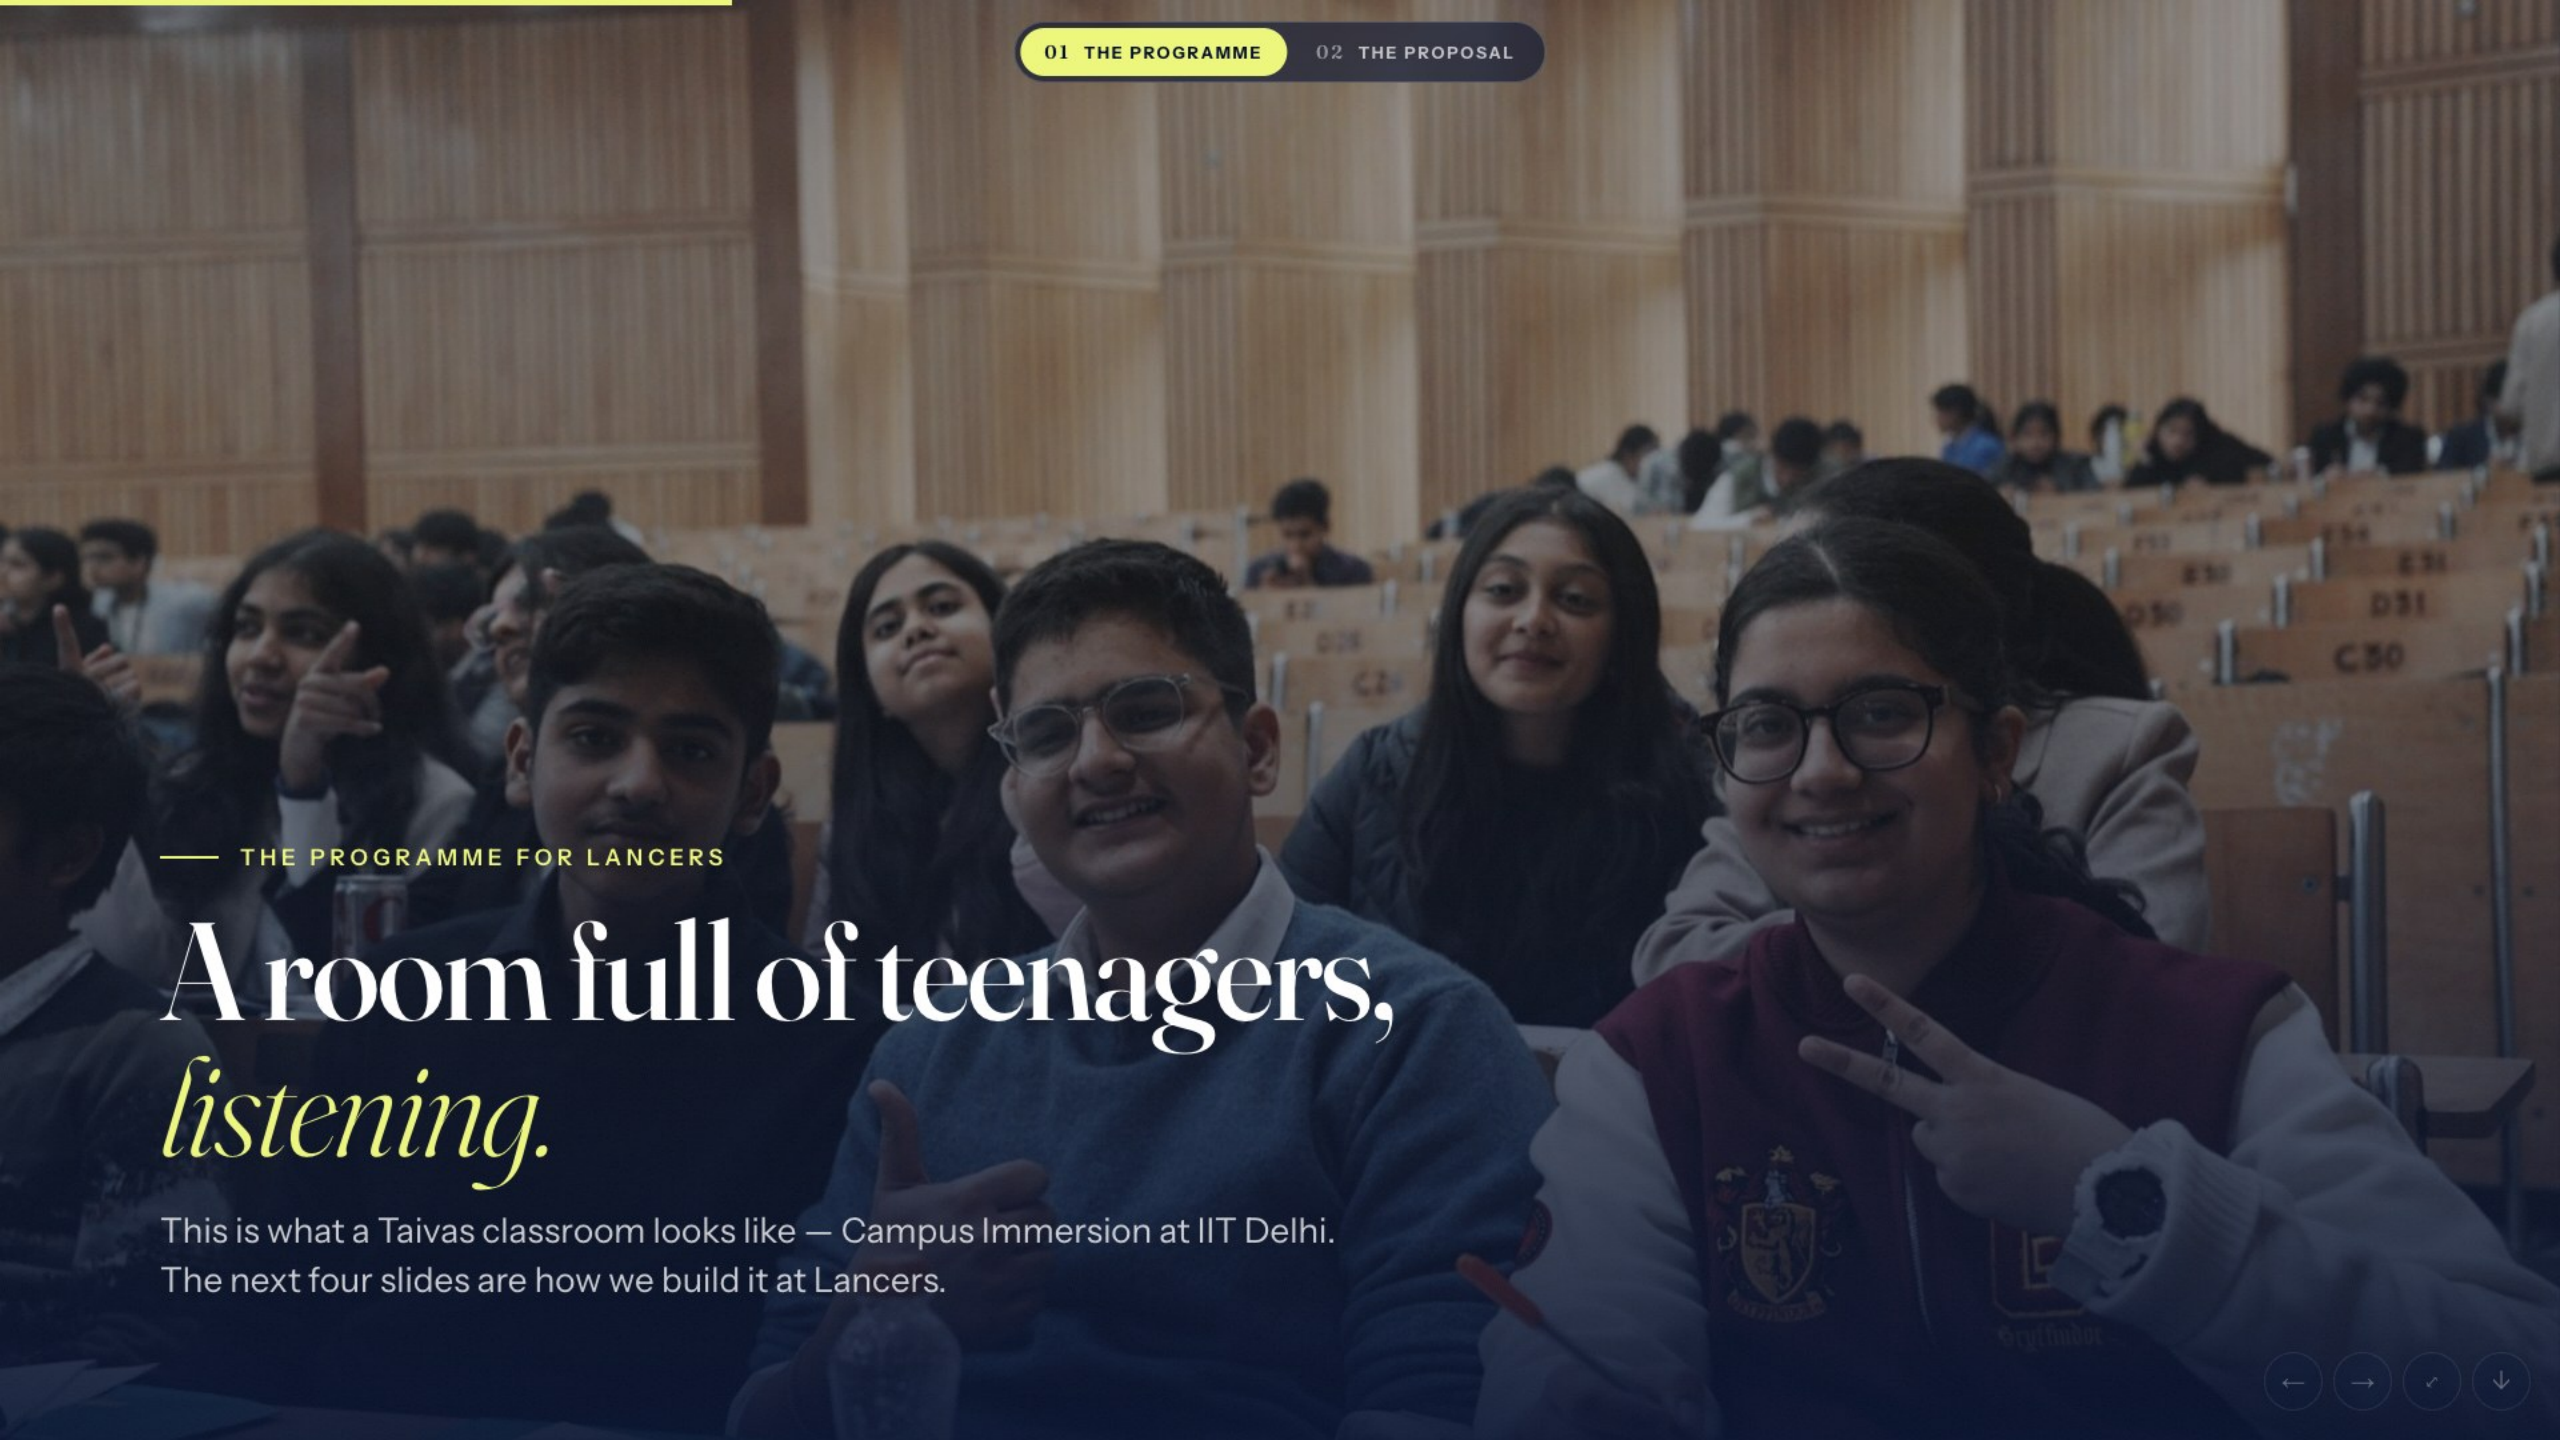

Persuasive speaking

Building a case with evidence and delivering it convincingly.

06

Inspires lifelong growth

Skills that keep compounding long after the debate round ends.

THE PROGRAMME FOR LANCERS

A room full of teenagers, listening.

This is what a Taivas classroom looks like — Campus Immersion at IIT Delhi.
The next four slides are how we build it at Lancers.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

BUILT FOR SCHOOLS. RUN BY TAIVAS.

A weekly rhythm, inside the timetable.

01 · THE RHYTHM

Two classes a week, every week of the term

Two classes a week, timetabled straight into the school's own schedule — not an after-school add-on.

2	1+1	8	60
classes / week	offline on-campus + online	classes / month · 4 offline + 4 online	minutes / session

Offline sessions are delivered on campus, face-to-face with the cohort; online sessions run on the same weekly slot every time. Timing, pacing and modules are built around the school's academic calendar.

ON CAMPUS · FACE-TO-FACE

02 · THE BATCH

One batch, one trainer, one term

25–30 students, grouped by grade band, with the same Taivas trainer from orientation to showcase — so the trainer knows every student's voice by week three.

25–30	1 trainer	3–6 months
students per batch	throughout the term	one academic term

Progress is tracked on the Taivas LMS and reported to the school every month — attendance, participation and a skills rubric per student, not just a certificate at the end.

LIVE ONLINE · SAME TRAINER, SAME BATCH

- Predictable weekly rhythm
- Expert trainers, every session
- Visible progress, real outcomes

FROM FIRST MEETING TO SHOWCASE

A clear journey that takes every student from orientation to a stage.

01

Orientation

We meet with school authorities, then run an orientation session for students.

WEEK 0

02

Classes run

Regular classes for 3–6 months — a semester — on the school's own calendar.

ONE SEMESTER

03

Culmination

Every student gets a platform to showcase their growth.

AREAS OF FOCUS

Four strands, one curriculum.

01

Static GK

Interactive video lectures and notes covering school needs as well as geopolitics, economics, law and world history — easy, digestible content that builds a strong base.

02

Debate theory

The basics of debating in clear steps: Parliamentary and Oxford formats, motion analysis, argument building and delivery.

03

Debating practical

Real debates with speeches, rebuttals and cross-examination. Mock rounds with live feedback that sharpen skills and prepare students for competition.

04

Extra classes

Special sessions for top contests like Harvard, Oxford and the World Scholar's Cup — advanced motions and strategies for an international level.

FORMATS TAUGHT

Parliamentary · Oxford · Motion analysis · Rebuttals · Cross-examination · Mock rounds

A TAIVAS TRAINER IN SESSION

EXPERT TRAINERS, EVERY SESSION

Taivas-certified trainers, not substitutes.

01 A faculty of 25+

Alumni of the University of Toronto, Warwick, India's National Law Universities and top schools.

02 Trained on the bootcamp circuit

The same team that runs our IIT Bombay, Delhi, Madras and Kanpur bootcamps leads every school session.

03 Every session led by a trainer

60 minutes, face-to-face on campus or live online — never a recording, never an unsupervised worksheet.

STUDENT STORIES

TWO OF OUR STUDENTS

What the training looks like years later.

AC

Aryan Chandok

CLASS 10 · JOINED TAIVAS IN CLASS 8

Four years in the making.

Aryan joined Taivas in Class 8. By Class 10 he had been selected for the ISDC National Camp, India's national training camp for schools debating, and built a record most adults would envy. None of it happened overnight — it was four years of consistent training, one session at a time.

- Selected for the ISDC National Camp
- First breaking team at Mukhtalif
- Overall Champion team, World Scholar's Cup
- Winner, Pre-India WSDC — Novice category

VA

Vedika Arora

TAIVAS ALUMNA · STANFORD UNIVERSITY

Debate wasn't her extracurricular. It was her application.

Vedika is ranked the 9th best debater in India, and was selected for the ISDC National Camp from a national pool of over 2,000 applicants. That same record — the tournaments, the research, the ability to hold an argument under pressure — carried her to a full scholarship at Stanford University. Parents ask what debate is really for. This is the honest answer.

- Ranked 9th best debater in India
- ISDC National Camp — selected from 2,000+ applicants
- Full scholarship, Stanford University

HOW THE CLASSES WOULD RUN

A month of debate at Lancers.

Two fixed slots a week, every week of the term. One class on campus with the trainer in the room; one live online from home, on the same weekday each time. Nothing for the school to reschedule, nothing for a parent to chase.

WHAT THE FEE ACTUALLY BUYS

Inside every class hour.

01

A certified trainer, in person

Every session is led live by a Taivas-certified trainer — never a recording, never a worksheet left with a teacher.

02

The full curriculum on the LMS

Static GK library, video lectures, motion banks and notes — every student gets a login, and the trainer builds on it in class.

03

Mock rounds with feedback

Students debate every week. Speeches, rebuttals and cross-examination, with the trainer scoring and correcting in the room.

04

Progress reported to the school

Attendance, participation and a skills rubric per student, sent to the coordinator every month — not a certificate at the end.

05

A showcase on campus

The term ends with a Showcase Debate at Lancers — parents in the audience, every student on stage.

06

The pathway beyond

IIT-campus bootcamps, the National Speech & Debate Championship, and prep for Harvard, Oxford and the World Scholar's Cup.

Included in both models Everything above comes with the programme, whichever way Lancers funds it.

COMMERCIAL STRUCTURE

Two ways to fund it.

MODEL 01 · SCHOOL-FUNDED · B2B

Lancers runs it as part of its own curriculum offering.

₹60,000 per batch, per month

25–30 students a batch | 8 classes a month | 4 on campus + 4 online | 60 minutes each

The fee is borne by the school. The programme sits inside the timetable as one of Lancers' curriculum offerings — the whole batch attends, and there is no parent-side enrolment to run.

What this works out to: ₹2,000–2,400 per student a month, or ₹250–300 a class, with a certified trainer in the room and everything on the previous page included.

MODEL 02 · STUDENT-FUNDED · B2B2C

Lancers provides the space and access; families enrol directly.

3-MONTH PARTNERSHIP

₹7,500

per student, for the term

6-MONTH PARTNERSHIP FULL COURSE

₹12,000

per student, for the full course
₹2,000 a month · ₹3,000 less than two terms

Same batch, same rhythm, same trainer. The school opens the programme to its students and gives us a room and a slot; Taivas runs registration, collects fees from parents and reports back to the school.

Lancers carries no cost. A batch forms once 25 students enrol; the school's only role is the space, the slot and the introduction.

Same trainers · same curriculum · same showcase The two models differ only in who pays. The classroom is identical.

All fees in Indian Rupees; taxes as applicable. Per-student figures are indicative, computed on a batch of 25–30. Batch composition, slot and start date to be agreed with the school at orientation.

SIDE BY SIDE

What changes between the two — and what doesn't.

	School-Funded MODEL 01 · B2B	Student-Funded MODEL 02 · B2B2C
Who pays	The school	Parents, directly to Taivas
Fee	₹60,000 per batch, per month	₹7,500 per student for 3 months · ₹12,000 for the 6-month full course
Where it sits	Inside the timetable, as a curriculum offering — the whole batch attends	Opt-in, in a slot the school provides — students enrol individually
What Lancers provides	A room, a timetable slot and a coordinator	A room, a slot and an introduction to parents
What Taivas runs	Trainer, curriculum, LMS, reporting, showcase	All of that, plus registration and fee collection
Best when	Lancers wants debate as a school-owned offering for a chosen grade band	Lancers wants to offer it without a budget line
